

Hello from St. Hugh's!

2024/2

www.sthughquethiock.org.uk

The churchyard is beginning to bloom with primroses and 3-cornered leeks. The primroses in particular bring a welcome splash of colour after the gloom and wet of recent weeks! It is a lovely space which is available to everyone. There are even some benches on which to sit, reflect and enjoy a quiet moment or two. Just be careful to stay away from the edge with its drop onto the road! Also, please be respectful around the gravestones and aware that occasionally they may without warning become unstable.

In addition to the Spring flowers, there is an impressive variety of grasses and invertebrates also making their home in the churchyard. The grass is cut professionally twice a year and the remainder of the maintenance is carried out by a small group of volunteers. If anyone would like to help, please contact Richard on 01579 340612 or rrabp@icloud.com.

Managing the churchyard in this way is a step towards St. Hugh's becoming more ecologically and environmentally sustainable - further about this in future editions of 'Hello'.

Quethiock School

We are racing towards the end of the spring term here at Quethiock School and there is still so much to fit in. The School came together at St Hugh's last week for our Easter Service and we are looking forward to The Easter Experience with Rev Li next week. We have celebrated World Book Day and Red Nose Day this term, and still have our Spring Show to look forward to next week before we break for Easter. Our children have had adventure days out, sports trips and our year 2's are currently on their first school residential! There is never a dull moment at Quethiock School!

Easter Experience

Children from Quethiock School held their Easter Service in St. Hugh's and then returned a few days later for an 'Easter Experience', following the story of Jesus from his journey into Jerusalem to his resurrection. At each 'station' they collected beads towards a bracelet. They ended their journey through the Easter Story by writing a prayer for the world.
